

2015 Youth Council Leadership Conference at USU

At the conference banquet dinner they give a "Teamwork and Leadership" Award. They choose one youth council who, throughout the conference, "exemplifies outstanding enthusiasm, leadership and teamwork". Out of 24 youth councils in attendance this year... they awarded it to us!! WAY TO GO Millville City Youth Council!

Hunter Low: Liked being there with friends. Learned to stay positive and teamwork.

Mikaeli Hill: Liked the speakers. Learned to believe in myself and work through my problems.

Sadie Anderson: Liked all the great food, keynote speakers that were funny and happy, all the music and the challenge. Learned to be a good citizen, eat less food and set goals.

Tyler Thornton: Liked the fun, togetherness and speakers. Learned how to push through trials.

Maren Melani: Liked the keynote speakers. Learned to never give up.

Emily Pehrson: Liked learning how to be a better leader in the community and meeting new people. Learned that it's okay to have bad days as long as we make tomorrow a better one.

Trevor Hobbs: Liked being with our community, learning to set goals and leading our peers. Learned there will be challenges in life but you need to stand up and overcome them.

Bruce McConkie: Liked good programs and speakers. Learned to never give up.

Kennady Zollinger: Liked the opportunity to meet new people and bond with the council. Learned how to be a leader and about Utah's future.

Brooke Nichols: Liked the keynote speakers. They were extremely relatable and fun to listen to. Learned to live with no regrets and turn the sour days into sweet ones.

Brennan Duffin: Liked the dance. Learned leadership, listening and decision-making.

Brookelin Waldron: Liked the motivational speakers. Made me inspired to be a better leader. Learned to never stop moving towards your goals and do it with a big smile on your face.

Katelyn Whipple: Liked the speaker, Meg Johnson. She was funny and uplifting. Learned that it's not the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog. With motivation, you can accomplish anything you want.

Jacey Davis: Liked the inspiring speakers. Learned to always be willing to help.

Hailey Checketts: Liked the inspirational speakers who have been through many trials but knew that they could still do the things they wanted if they set goals. Learned that the attitude you have when going through trials is the only thing that matters.

Kaitlyn Woolley: Liked learning about how to be a good leader to better benefit the community and how to inspire others to do the same. Learned that no matter what life throws at you, never give up and make the best of any situation.

Parker Cummings: Liked the speakers. Learned I need to have a good attitude.

Maya Simmons: Liked being with my friends and getting to know people better. Learned that you need to believe in yourself to achieve great things.

Brock Norris: Liked the speakers. Learned that attitude is everything.

Tabitha Waldron: Liked meeting new people and spending time with everyone on the council. The speakers were great. Learned that it's all about personal decisions. If you decide that you can't do something, you will never be able to achieve that goal. It is up to you personally.

Tori Nyman: Liked the banquet, the boys and getting to know lots of people. Learned about suicide prevention and friendship.

Madison Fuhriman: Liked how friendly everyone was toward each other and all the activities in which we could participate and learn things we can use now or in the future. Learned that it is okay to ask for help in overcoming obstacles. Everyone goes through different challenges but our attitude determines how we handle them.

Jackson Nichols: Liked leading. Learned to be a leader.

Joshua Blankenship: Liked being with friends and the food. Learned to never give up.

Allie Zollinger: Liked meeting new people and the speakers. Learned leadership skills.

Annika Johnson: Liked being able to meet people. Learned to always smile and not repeat mistakes.
